Coach's Corner

Students are ready to learn!

Good afternoon friends and families of MCS,

Pencils are sharpened, books are fresh, and the students are ready to learn! These first few days of school have been busy. There is a different feel in the building this first week of school then we have experienced in the past two years. A normal school feeling is welcomed. To be able to start the school year off with an in-person chapel for the first time in three years, was an awesome experience.

It has also been so nice to see our many new students spending time with students that have been at MCS for several years. The teachers and I are grateful to serve your families again this year.

As always, if you need anything from me, please reach out.

Blessings,

Mr. Martin
